Online and Offline orders necessitate different business & employee strategies.

(1) Framing Strategies by Order Type

Analysis
Focus 1

Offline and online sales both have important revenue streams that inform us.

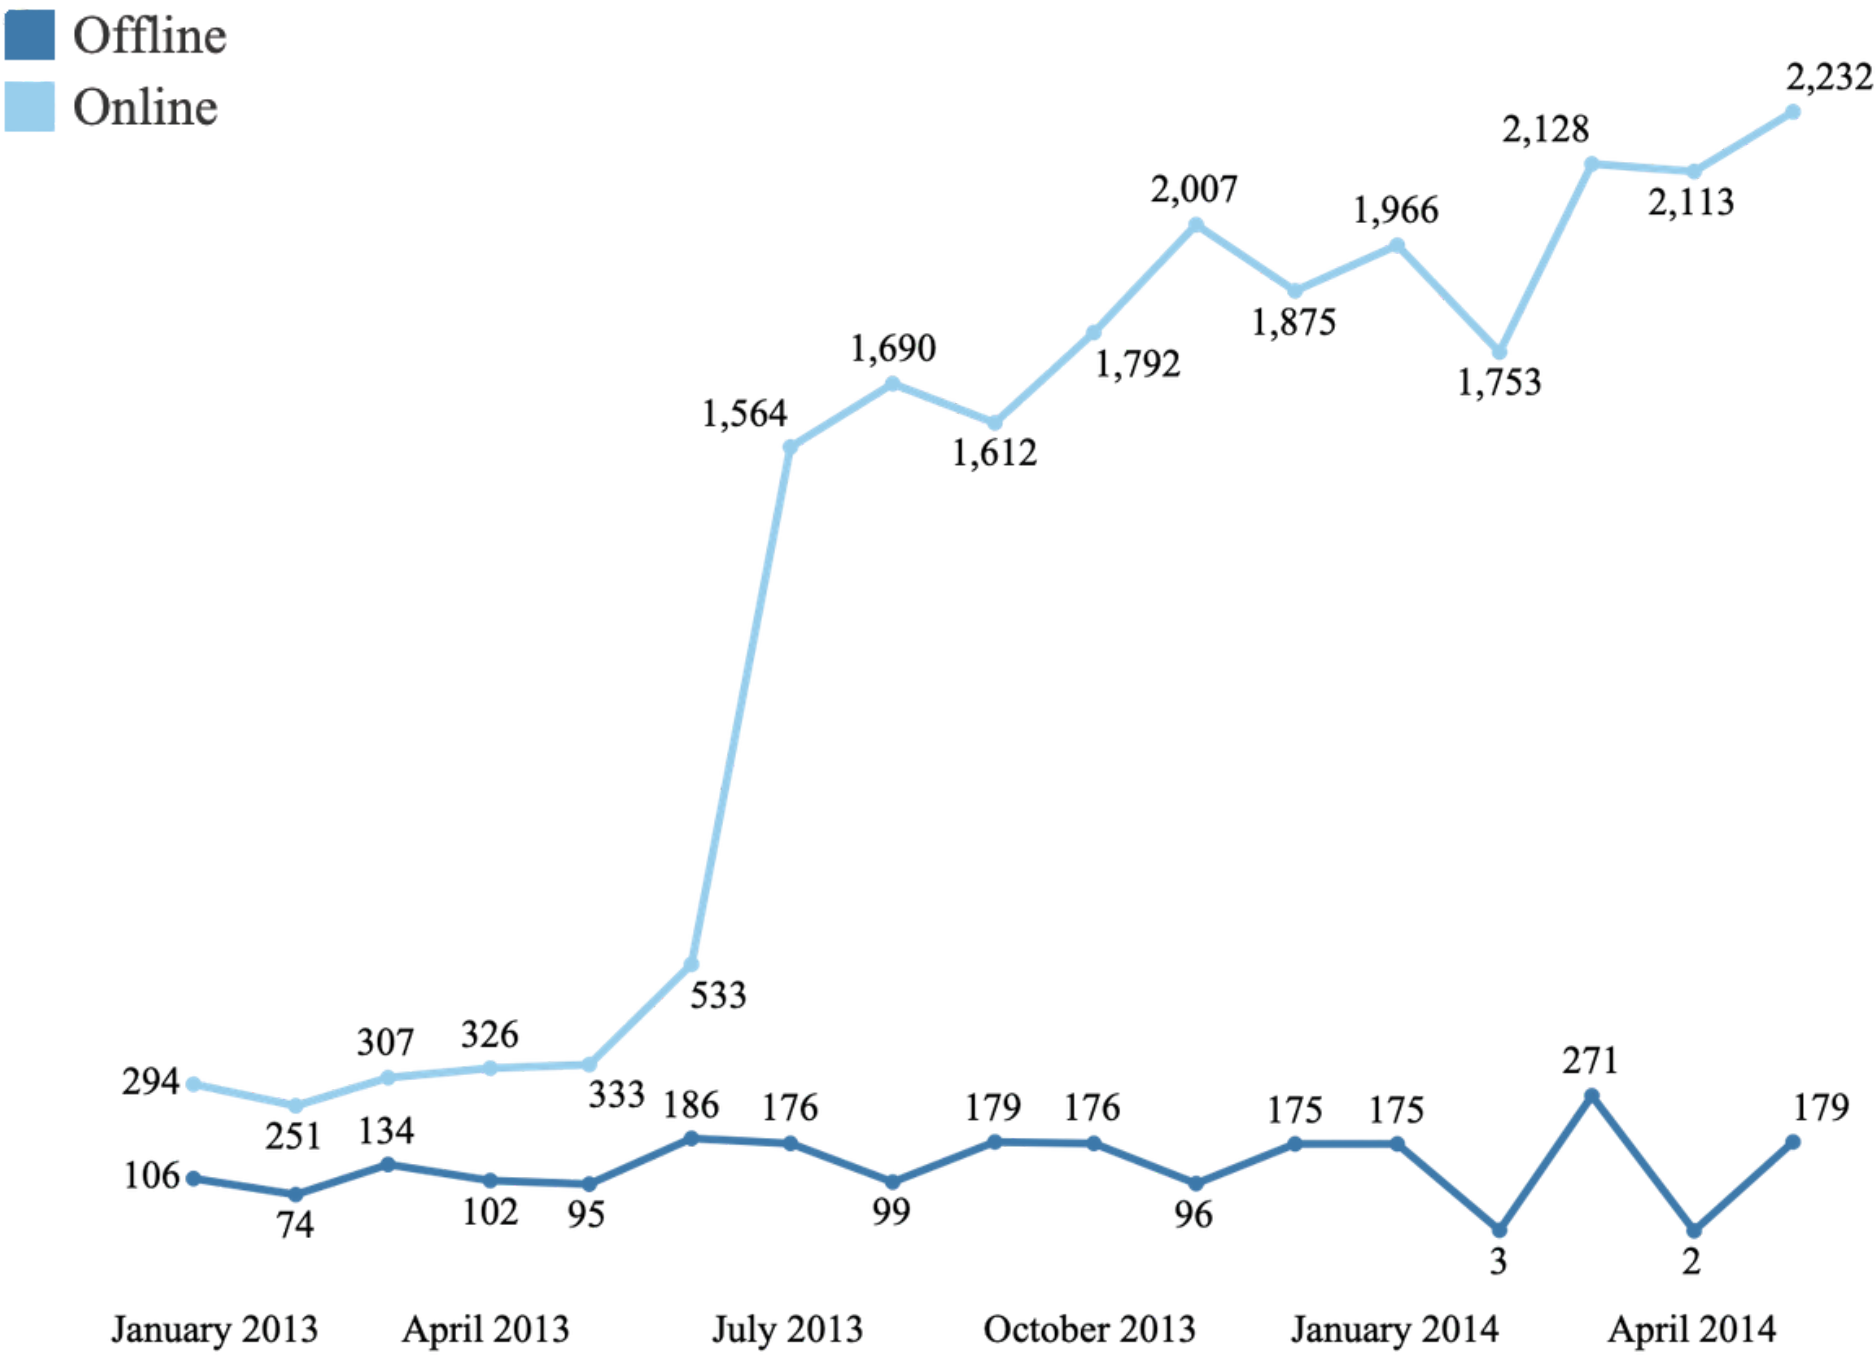

Offline and online sales both have important revenue streams that inform us.
Average order amount by order type reinforces different revenue strategies.

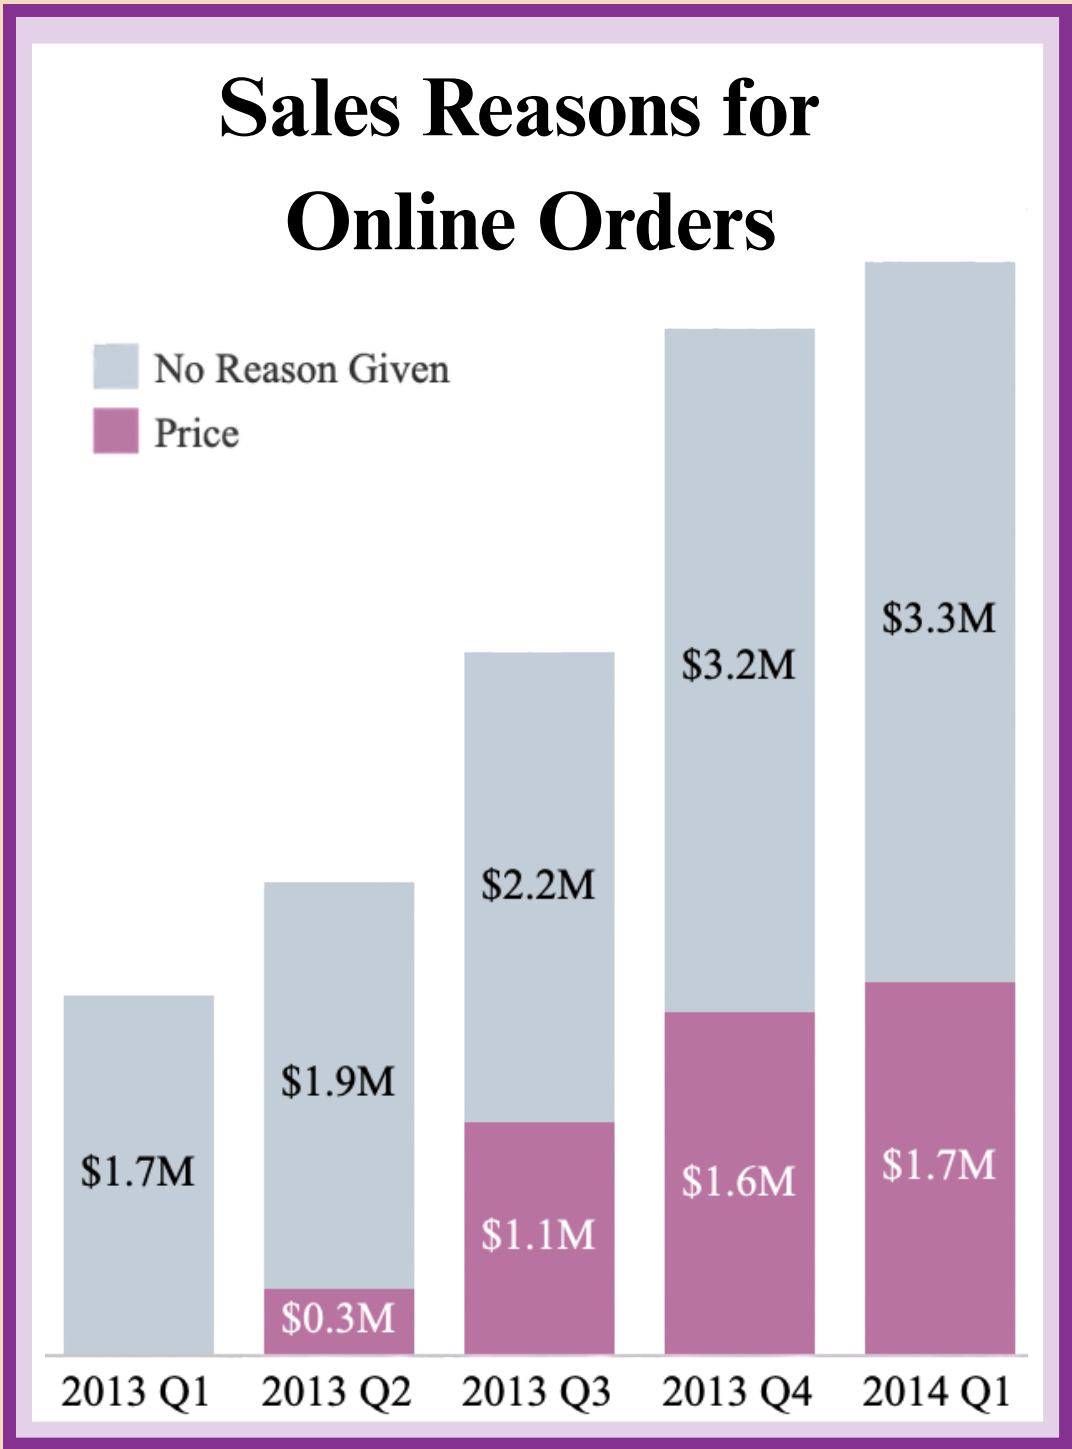

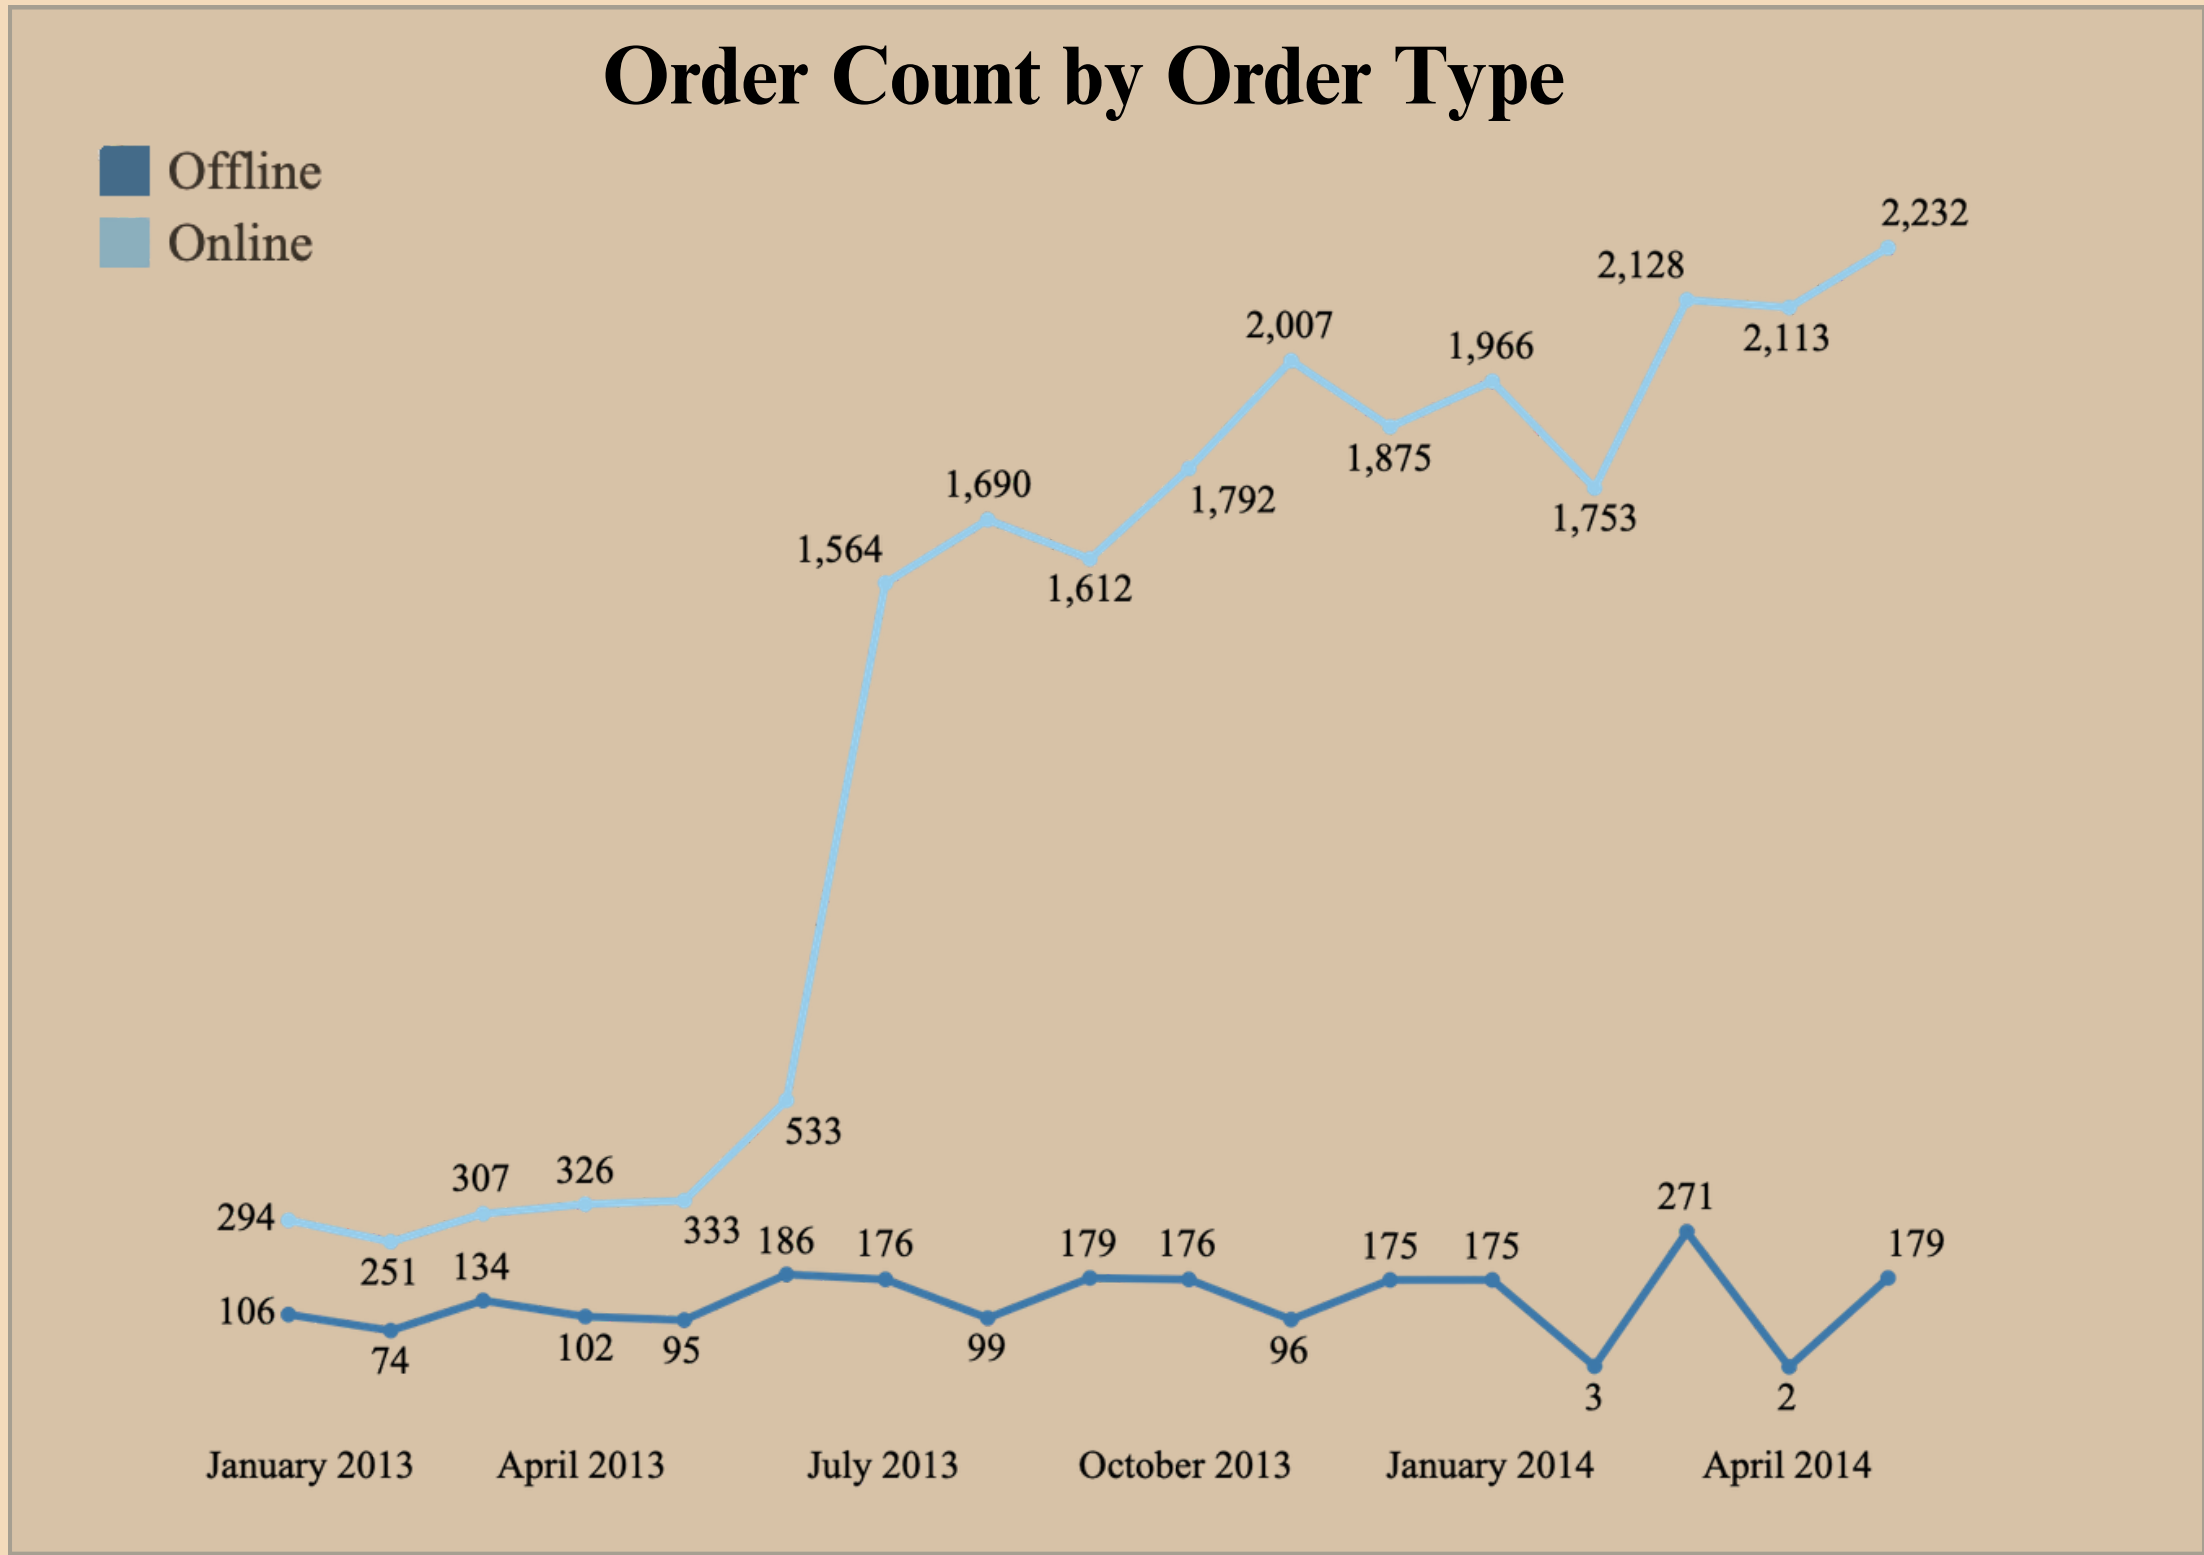

Average Order Amount by Order Type
Quarter	Offline	Online
2013 Q1	$22,633	$1,954
2013 Q2	$26,199	$1,838
2013 Q3	$24,421	$668
2013 Q4	$19,863	$837
2014 Q1	$20,748	$865

Online sales counts have grown tremendously, impacting our future strategy.

Order Count by Order Type

Online sales counts have grown tremendously, impacting our future strategy.
Approx. 33% of recent online sales driven by price. We can grow in sales analytics.

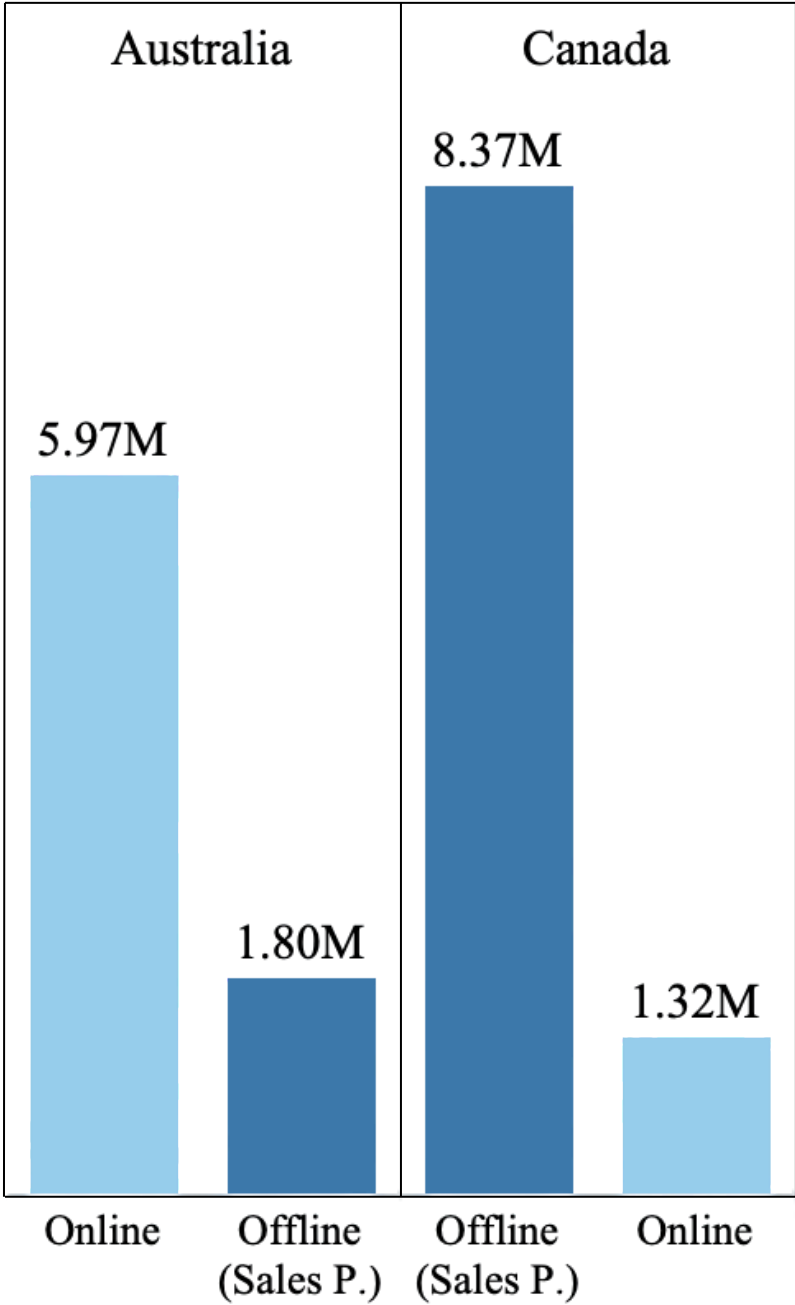

Offline sales present growth opportunities, such as a European/UK market strategy.

Total Sales by Salespersons (Offline) in Europe/UK
Sales Person ID	France	Germany	United Kingdom
282			3,289,885
287	66,840	219,211	409,699
288		2,062,393
290	3,965,058

Sales persons’ sales in and across countries suggests opportunity for a cohesive, unified team strategy.

Support the sales marketing funnel through advertising based on our growing customer engagement in countries.

Online vs.
Offline Sales in Australia &
Canada

There are opportunities to leverage sales growth and market share of one order type to support the marketing funnel of the other order type. For example, in Australia, enhancing awareness and reviews of those with our bikes via online sales can help support offline connections and sales. In Canada, the opposite direction should work.

Stock Turnover Ration (STR) is a key metric for sales and hiring strategy.

(2) Leveraging Stock Turnover Ratio (STR)

Analysis
Focus 2

Our quarterly Stock Turnover Ratio (STR) for both order types is strong.

Using STR with sales persons helps us evaluate and create targets with deeper context, integrating both inventory and total sales.

Remember that women are our top three sales persons.
I recommend a pay equity audit by the end of the year.

Consider hiring and accessibility for age, disability, and race/ethnicity. Inquire further at end of presentation.
